A SNUB FROM CANADA.

Officers of the Government Refuse a Friendly Invitation.

SNUB THE INVITER.

Sir Wilfred Laurier Flatly Refuse to Attend the Laying of the Corner Stone of the Postoffice at Chicago—Excuses Flimsy.

Washington, Aug. 5.—F. W. Fitzpatrick of the treasury department, has just returned to Washington from Ottawa where he went at the instance of the committee of citizens of Chicago in charge of the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of that city's postoffice building next October to arrange for the formal invitation and expected acceptance of an invitation from Chicago's citizens to the governor general and cabinet of Canada to participate in these festivities.

Mr. Fitzpatrick admits that his official reception was slightly chilly, and that Sir Wilfred Laurier, candidly told him that under the present conditions it would be impossible for him to accept any social invitations to this side of the border.

Mr. Fitzpatrick says that in substance Sir Wilfred's voluntary statements and answers to queries were as follows:

"As a friend in whom I am deeply interested, I am very glad to see you, but, frankly, as a representative of the Federal or any local government in the United States your visit could not have been more untimely. When I received your first letter I took up the matter with his excellency, the governor general, and he expressed a sincere desire to visit Chicago and seemed as anxious to accept the invitation as I was. Since then the tone of your press has become so harsh in dealing with the Alaskan boundary question, such misrepresentations have been made about our government and particularly about me that it would be undignified for me to visit you, and I cannot advise his excellency to go."

SIR WILFRED LAURIER.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said that Sir Wilfred Laurier intimated that in the present state of public feeling in the United States as indicated in the press it would not be entirely safe for the governor general and himself to visit Chicago, as he feared that they might, in a great gathering of such a character as the Chicago ceremony, be subjected to some unpleasantness or indignity by thoughtless persons. Sir Wilfred Laurier expressed himself as strongly in favor of arbitrating the Alaskan boundary dispute and concluded the interview as follows:

"No, much as I regret it, I could not go to Chicago under present conditions, and shall certainly, however painful a duty it may be, also advise his excellency to decline the invitation that I know and feel has so kindly been extended to us by the city of Chicago."

Mr. Fitzpatrick says he secured Sir Wilfred's promise to reconsider the matter.

RIOT AMONG TROOPS.

Regulars and Volunteers Clash at Fort McPherson and Several Hurt.

Atlanta, Aug. 5.—The riot between the regular and volunteer forces stationed at Fort McPherson resulted in the wounding of eight soldiers.

The recruits of the Twenty-ninth volunteers received their pay and coming into town, spent most of it for liquor. On returning to the fort some of the volunteers became engaged in a controversy with the regulars and they began to fight with bayonets and revolvers.

So fierce was the fracas that the services of a company of regulars with fixed bayonets was required before order could be restored. As a result of the riot, eight men occupy bunks at the post hospital and it is feared some will die. The officers refuse to divulge any names or particulars.

NOW AT MANILA.

Filipino Junta Now Operating Under the Very Nose of General Otis.

New York, Aug. 5.—A dispatch to The World from Hong Kong says that the Aguinaldo advisory council is right in Manila. Hong Kong, having been made too hot for the Filipino junta through the efforts of the United States consul, Wildman, the rebels decided to attempt to establish headquarters at Manila. They were encouraged to try this daring experiment by the fact that under recent decree of Governor General Otis, the Philippine island court is now conducted by natives. So Crisanto Linchanchon, the treasurer of the junta, went boldly to Manila and professed friendship for General Otis. The scheme worked so well that it delighted the junta and they celebrated their victory with a grand ball.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

It Is Said It Contemplates a Division of the Military Department.

New York, Aug. 5.—A special to The Herald from Washington says:

It is understood that the plan of operations for the fall campaign in the Philippines contemplates a division of the military departments, and General Lawton will have command of one in which the cavalry troops will operate. It is probable that General Wheeler will be given command of a brigade of cavalry in General Lawton's department.

The boundary line of Lawton's department will embrace the territory in which there will be the heaviest fighting, so that General Lawton will be in direct charge of the most important forces in the field, and in this way Gen. Otis will not be officially discredited, and will be relieved of much of the responsibilities in connection with the conduct of the war, and will be left free to perform the duties of military governor.

Secretary Root's short experience in the department has already convinced him that the views of the military commanders subordinate to General Otis who favor a larger military force than recommended by that officer are worthy of serious consideration. There are reasons to believe he will recommend that the force be further augmented.

AFTER BANGUAY ISLAND.

Filipinos in Event of the Defeat of Aguinaldo Wish to Locate There.

Copyrighted, 1899, by the Associated Press.

London, Aug. 5.—The interesting information comes from the British North Borneo company that it has received a request from the Philippines asking the company to lease or sell to the Filipinos Banguay island, just to the south of Palawan island. It is only sparsely inhabited by natives. The Filipinos who are engineering the deal say that in case of defeat, Aguinaldo and other leaders, with a large section of the Filipinos, may settle at Banguay under British protection and the company's rule. The board is now considering the question, but it is understood the company is not averse to leasing the island on very favorable terms being offered.

Steamer Saturnus Burned.

Manila, Aug. 5.—The steamer Saturnus, a companion of the Maritima, coasting under the American flag, was burned Wednesday and the crew is missing. Details of the affair are not known. The captain of the Saturnus once obtained possession of the ship belonging to the Maritima company, held at San Fernando by the insurgents, by mooring the Saturnus alongside and hauling the vessel away in the night.

Captured and Burned by Rebels.

London, Aug. 5.—The Lloyds' agent at Manila cables that the insurgents have captured and burned the United States steamer Saturnus.

Spanish Court on Surrenders.

Madrid, Aug. 5.—The supreme council has deliberated over the judgment regarding the surrender of Santiago, Cuba, to the American troops. The verdict has not yet been rendered.

It is reported that the accused officers will be acquitted.

It is said the public prosecutor has submitted a report demanding the imprisonment of life to be imposed upon the Spanish officers responsible for the surrender of Manila.

Pays a Visit to Dewey.

Naples, Aug. 5.—Admiral Dewey, who arrived here from Trieste on board the United States cruiser Olympia, was visited by Lewis Morris Iddings, secretary of the United States embassy at Rome; Richard C. Parsons, second secretary of the embassy; Hector D. Castro, United States consul general here and Vice Consul Charles Wood. The Olympia will probably remain in this port a month.

Women as Farm Hands.

Omaha, Aug. 5.—That section of the great corn belt formed by northeastern Nebraska, northwestern Iowa, southwestern Minnesota and northeastern South Dakota is the scene of an extraordinary spectacle. Two women are working in the small grain.

Indianapolis, Aug. 5.—Attorney General Taylor has delivered an opinion that it is illegal for faith curists, Christian Scientists and other unlicensed persons who assume the title of doctor, to minister to the sick, particularly where a fee is charged.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 5.—Rev. M. H. Milburn, the blind chaplain of the United States senate, who is suffering from sunstroke, is much improved.

IDENTITY IN ADVERTISING.

People enjoy reading interesting and truthful advertisements, and mentally associate the amount and quality of advertising with the size and excellence of the store.
Every successful merchant regards his stock of goods as different and superior to that of any other store in town, and feels a little natural resentment when he overhears the remark that "they all keep about the same." The remark is not truthful, for each house has its identity; but if the merchant contents himself with placing over the entrance, or on the awning, the sign, dealers in dry goods, or groceries, or hardware, and goes no further, ignorance is apt to suppose that only the old-fashioned and stereotyped lines of goods are upon the shelves. Every merchant seeks to have some line of novelty or superior goods, but the fact of having them is not enough, the purchasing population must know it before coming to the store, or the stock will probably remain on hand for an indefinite period.
Spasmodic advertisements do not pay as well as the continuous recital of bargains and general stock.
The advertiser who carries through the dull season, even though the people have not hard cash then,
are the ones who catch the pennies in the fall. During the dull months the farmers will study what and where to buy when the crop is sold. There is one common horror to housewives, and that is what to furnish the table with; and especially does she become worried during the dull season, when garden truck is almost an impossibility. If she, in the puzzling hour, would pick up the town paper and read even a list of tempting eatables her worry would be dismissed and the advertiser would get her trade. There is no line of business that would not benefit and increase by persistent advertising. During these hard times nickles count, and purchasers invariably go to the place where they can obtain the best for their money.—Calvert Chronicle.

STORM AT COMMERCE.

Several Buildings Damaged and Trees
Twisted Off by the Wind.
Commerce, Tex., Aug. 5.—The people of Commerce were startled Thursday by a roaring noise above the city.
There was a small cloud, and everybody thought it would be a sprinkle and paid but little attention to it. But the rain began to come down in torrents and the wind began to blow in circles.
The front end of two business houses and the awnings on the northwest corner of the square were blown down. A long row of watermelon wagons were scattered about, teams rans away and the people were hunting a safe place.
In the northeastern part of the city
several small houses were damaged.
The negro church was badly damaged.
West of town large trees were twisted
in two and thrown about every way.
Peach trees were blown down in several orchards.
The foreman of the section gang on the Cotton Belt came in from the west with his head badly swollen and tied up.
He was on the prairie without shelter from the hail, which fell enough to cover the ground.
The storm only lasted a few minutes,
but was the hardest wind experienced here for many years. It was almost a cyclone.

Watching the Fever Closely.
Washington, Aug. 5.—The Marine hospital service had no news up to noon today that would indicate any further spread of fever around Hampton. While the situation is regarded as encouraging it is not proposed to leave any possible loophole for the spread of the disease outside of already established quarantine lines. Dr. Wyman therefore ordered Surgeon Donaldson to begin a town to town inspection along the railway lines from Newport News to Richmond to locate and keep under observation any parties from the neighborhood of the infected area, upon whom suspicion might reasonably be attached.

Two Deaths at Hampton.

Hampton, Va., Aug. 5.—No new cases and two deaths is the yellow fever record here Friday.

Dragged by a Cow Until Dead.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Aug. 5.—Ethel Burnham, the stepdaughter of Jerome
Ward, a well known farmer, near Kirkpatrick, went to milk an unruly cow, and to prevent the animal from escaping, she halted it and tied end of the halter to her wrist. The cow suddenly started to run, pulling the girl from the stool. The animal dragged Miss Burnham over the field until dead.

Kendall's Ruling Sustained.

Austin, Aug. 5.—The state board of education has acted on the Houston school trustee matter. They sustained Superintendent Kendall's ruling to the effect that school trustees holding their office on March 30, 1898, cannot be lawfully removed by the city council, but are entitled to hold said office until the expiration of their terms, 1901 and 1903 respectively.

Grading the Roadbed.

Calvert, Tex., Aug. 5.—The Calvert, Waco and Brazos Valley roadbed is being graded at this place and it is estimated that the road will be in operation from Hearne this far north by Sept. 15.

FROM WEST TEXAS.

EDITOR EAGLE—As it has been some time since any news from this western country has been in print, I take great pleasure in writing and giving you a few dots.

We are still enjoying the cool breezes from the mountains.

Cattle are looking fine and there is plenty of green grass for them.

The stockmen in this country have very little trouble with their cattle.

The young people were given a very pleasant social at the Rock Spring hotel in honor of the Normal students Saturday night. They were given an elegant reception. The merry crowd did not take their departure until the clock told that another Sabbath was awakening.

There was a delightful dance given at Mr. Brink's. All present report a nice time.

I wish you could visit this country and enjoy the delightful climate and fresh, sweet air from the mountains. The scenery is lovely; towering hills, beautiful rivers, and last, but not least, good health. In a few years this town will be one to be proud of. Houses and stores are going up rapidly. A very interesting sight to be seen here are the camping people from all over Texas, here for their health. The people here are generous and kind to the poor, and are always willing to help those who help themselves.

We get the Bryan EAGLE promptly every week. We always run when we see papa coming, and run races for the paper. You have no idea how much we appreciate the EAGLE. CLARA AXSON. ROCK SPRINGS, Edwards Co., Tex.

Mr. Arthur J. Blake, brother-in-law of the Rev. Herbert E. Bowers, L. L. D., rector of Bryan, having secured a financial interest in the well-known Dandruane Soap company, of Ohio, will hereafter have charge of its entire business in Texas and the southwestern states. The general office of this celebrated company will be located in Houston, for which city Mr. Blake leaves this week. Dandruane Soap has the reputation of being the best on the market and has a tremendous sale in the north and Europe, where it has been introduced by leading Americans. Mr. Blake is the first general agent of the company appointed for the southwestern states, and his first duty is to procure live agents in every city and town in Texas. He expects to procure a splendid agent here in this city, and it is hoped that our citizens will remember that Dandruane, which is made by the Ohio firm, is the best in the world for all purposes of cleanliness. Those of our citizens wishing to try it can obtain a sample tin, with full instructions, by addressing a letter enclosing 25 cents to A. J. BLAKE & Co., Houston, Texas.

GIRLS LURED FROM HOME.

Queer Business Conducted in London by Agents from Russia.

The practice of beguiling English girls abroad on the pretext of providing them with lucrative engagements in music halls has recently assumed the dimensions of a nefarious traffic. Representations having been made to the foreign office, an official inquiry has been instituted with the view of stopping the iniquitous proceeding. A representative of Lloyd's Weekly is officially informed that ample confirmation has been received of the enormity of the evil, and that, in consequence private detectives are actively engaged tracing the traffic to the persons or organizations concerned in it. The police have their suspicions fixed upon supposed agents located in London, who negotiate the transference of girls to Russia, their remuneration being commission for the girls procured. Several managers of west end music halls, knowing cases of girls being lured abroad by fraudulent inducements, have provided the police with the addresses of certain suspects. There are numerous glaring examples of theatrical girls of good character who are now virtually exiled in Russia, without the means of returning home to England. They had gone there relying upon the good faith of so-called foreign theatrical agents, whose glowing pictures of fortune were falsified soon after their arrival. When the young ladies pleaded the terms of the written agreement, drawn up and duly signed in London, they were told that an English contract had no validity in Russia. It is a terrible indictment to bring against the nation ruled over by the pacific and chivalrous czar that only two music halls in his wide domain are above suspicion, being conducted on honorable lines, legally and morally. Yet one of the best informed directors of music halls in London made that astounding statement to Lloyd's representative, and repeated it without qualification, urging that he knew what he was talking about. Mr. Burrows, of the Theatrical Mission, in Henrietta street, has received letters from young women now in Russia who had been victimized. One girl who had previously resided at Macready House wrote a piteous letter, begging for assistance to enable her to return home. She bore an irreproachable character, and had taken good parts in London theaters. Several people have sent money toward the paying of her return fare. The girl's story is one of revolting deception practiced upon her in St. Petersburg, and it is certain that her experience is typical of many which never come to the knowledge of the police or the public. A significant fact is that the London agents of these foreign managers invariably take the precaution of selecting girls who have no family ties in this country, thereby rendering them an easier and safer prey to their machinations. Only a short time ago nine young women simultaneously disappeared from the Birmingham district of Bradford, and it is supposed that some, if not all, are now on their way to Russia. This supposition is founded upon the fact that theatrical agents had been canvassing about Bradford very energetically for some time previously. The missing girls are spoken of in Birmingham as bearing respectable characters. When parliament opens Col. Dalbiac, M. P., and other members are pledged to raise the question of suppressing the scandal.—Lloyd's Weekly.

WOMEN EXECUTIONERS.

Both Belgium and Virginia Have Had Them.

What do you think of a woman who voluntarily offered herself to the government as the public executioner? A few years ago the official public executioner at Brussels died, and a substitute was temporarily appointed. On one occasion this person was ill and unable to attend. But at the appointed hour a stout middle-aged woman presented herself at the central police station and quietly remarked to the assembled functionaries: "I've come for the execution. My husband is not very well this morning and has asked me to take his place. Please let us get to business." The general satisfaction may be more easily imagined than described, which, being noticed by the would-be lady executioner, she added in a reassuring tone: "Oh, this is not by any means the first time." It afterward transpired that the woman, whose name was Marie Rege, had occasioned on several occasions in lieu of her husband. Dressed up in his clothes and her face masked, she had been the public executioner at several executions, and never had the proceedings interrupted by a single hitch. It is needless to add that the police authorities were unable to avail themselves of her offer on this occasion, however. It will be a surprise to most people to learn that there has actually been a woman executioner in this country. In olden times few cared to undertake the office of executioner, and occasionally death sentences were respite on condition that the criminal should perform this office. A case of this sort occurred in pre-revolutionary days, when a woman was sentenced to death for a murder she had committed in Virginia. The death sentence was respite on her offering to become public executioner, and known as "Lady Betty" she performed those duties for many years. She officiated on the scaffold without any mask or disguise, and flogged criminals through the streets with enthusiastic vigor.

SWEPT FROM EXISTENCE.

Towns Wiped Off the Map by the Cyclone on the Gulf.

River Junction, Fla., Aug. 5.—The most destructive cyclone that ever visited this section of Florida completely annihilated Carrabelle, McIntyre and Lanark Inn, south of here Thursday. At Carrabelle only 9 houses remain of a once beautiful and prosperous town. Communications from the mayor state 200 families are without homes or shelter and many are completely destitute.

At McIntyre only two mill boilers mark the site of the town. Lanark Inn, the famous summer resort, was blown into the gulf.

The Carrabelle, Tallahassee and Georgia railroad was washed away for a distance of 30 miles. A passenger train was blown from the track more than 100 yards. Many passengers were injured, but their names are unobtainable.

No fatalities are reported from McIntyre and Lanark.

Fifteen ships lying at anchor in Dog Island cove are now all high and dry on St. George and Dog Island. Twelve were loaded with lumber and ready for sea. Nothing remains of them but a mass of wreckage.

Three pilot boats and steamers Olia and Capitola and 40 boats under 20 tons were lost. Six lumber lighters, loaded, are gone. Not one of the entire fleet can be saved.

Five unidentified bodies have been recovered, supposed to be sailors.

Tugboats have gone from here to the scene of the wreckage: all possible aid is being given.

The accident was caused by an unmanageable freight train leaving the track and colliding with one of the viaduct supports just before the trolley car started across.

TEXTILE INDUSTRY.

Fort Valley Secures a Cotton Mill Now Located in Maine.

Baltimore, Aug. 5.—The textile industry continues to progress. At Fort Valley, Ga., a company has been organized with a capital of $200,000 to remove the entire plant and business of a cotton mill from Springvale, Me., to Fort Valley. The plant is one of 10,500 spindles and 300 looms, manufacturing light twills and satens. As an inducement for the removal of the plant, exemption from taxation for 10 years. A 50,000-gallon per day water supply for the same period, and the fact that 23,000 bales of cotton are marketed at Fort Valley annually, were offered.

The citizens of Dardanelle, Ark., according to a letter to The Manufacturers' Record, are ready to give a bonus of $10,000 to any one establishing a cotton mill there of reasonable capacity, and the town will also exempt the mill from taxation for 10 years.

In the immediate vicinity of Charlotte, N. C., eight new cotton factories and oil mills will be built this fall, indicating the development at a center where within 100 miles there are already nearly 300 mills, operating 2,236,451 spindles and 62,355 looms.

At Greenwood, S. C., work on 35 new cottages for operatives of the Greenville mills has begun. The increase in the working force is to meet the doubling of the capacity of the mill, for which the equipment has been purchased, and as soon as the operatives can be provided with homes the mill will be running night and day.

THE GOLD OUTPUT.

Africa Is First, Australia Second and the United States Third.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The director of the mint has nearly completed his estimate of the world's gold production for the year 1899. The data at hand seems to warrant the conclusion that the production will amount to $294,000,000 and possibly to $295,000,000. Africa leads all other countries with $80,300,000, with Australia second with $67,500,000, and the United States third with $64,463,000. Russia is credited with $25,000,000, Mexico with $10,000,000 and Canada, including the Klondike, with $14,000,000.

In 1897 Africa produced $58,306,000 with the United States second with $57,873,000 and Australia third with $55,684,000. Russia fourth with $28,245,000, Mexico fifth with $9,436,000 and Canada, including the Klondike with $6,027,000. The total for the year was $237,305,000.

Of the $14,000,000 credited to Canada in 1896 about $10,000,000 came out of the Klondike and in the estimate of the production of the United States during the last year $2,524,000 came from Alaska.

In 1896 and for nearly 50 years previously the United States occupied the first place in the world's production of gold. In that year the output of the world was estimated at $202,683,000.

These figures are subject to revision in making up the final estimate, but are believed to be approximately correct.

YAQUI UPRISING.

Their Number Swells and the Government Is Sending More Men.

City of Mexico, Aug. 5.—The rebel Yaqui forces are now thought to have been swelled to 3000 or 4000 men. Their temporary success has encouraged Indians from all along the Yaqui river to flock to their stronghold.

The government has decided to reinforce General Lorenzo Torres and the Seventeenth infantry has sailed from Mazatlan on the government transport Oaxaca for the mouth of the Yaqui river, which leaves Mazatlan entirely without a garrison.

General Torres now has his forces consisting of the Fifth cavalry and Eleventh and Twelfth infantry, mobilized in Yaqui valley and probably will not attempt a forward movement until he receives his reinforcements. A regiment from the interior is also being sent to him.

Up to last accounts the Mayo Indians were remaining tranquil.
